Dear St. Hildeburgh's Church Family,

This has been a very painful and difficult week for many in the Church of England, in particular for survivors of abuse. We wish to offer our support and prayers.

The decision of the Archbishop to resign comes after criticism following the publication of the Makin Report this week, which highlights the failure of the Church of England in its response to serial abuse perpetrated by John Smyth (now deceased).

Below is a letter from Bishop Mark Tanner, the Bishop of Chester. There are details of further support on the second page of his letter.

We seek to be a Church Community that places the needs of the most vulnerable, including survivors of abuse, at the centre. You may find that old or current wounds of abuse have been opened as a result of recent news. Safeguarding support is available if you need to raise concerns; speaking to Rev Paul, or our Parish Safeguarding Officer, Peter Ham or Sue Wells and Christine Walker, members of our safeguarding team. You can raise safeguarding concerns by speaking to us in person or by phone on 07444884879. Details are also on the leaflets at the back of church and elsewhere in the Weekly Beacon newsletter.

Yours in Christ,

Rev Paul Rossiter

THE BISHOP OF CHESTER

A letter to the Diocese of Chester

Tuesday, 12th November, 2024

Dear friends,

I am writing to you in the wake of the publication of the Makin review into the abuse perpetrated by John Smyth and today's resignation announcement from the Archbishop of Canterbury. I know that there are many questions, quite a lot of which remain unanswered. Like you, I am listening to the media coverage with all manner of mixed feelings, mainly grief over the failings of our church. You will know what a focus this kind of work has been in this diocese following the Pearl Review four years ago: there is no place for cover-up or complicity with abuse in any part of society, least of all in the church.

I do want to say a number of things as we seek to respond in the Diocese of Chester.

First and foremost; if the report raises concerns for you in any way at all, please do reach out for support. You can either talk with our safeguarding team or Safe Spaces and contact details are available overleaf. These conversations can trigger all manner of emotions in us, and support is available.

Secondly, please keep victims and survivors in your prayers. This is a very hard time for those who have journeyed through the kind of horrific experiences Makin outlines. Our aim to be 'survivor centred and trauma informed' can never just be a strapline. Please be kind to each other, and please pray.

Thirdly, may I thank all who are working to make our parishes, chaplaincies, and church schools safer spaces. I appreciate all that you do to enable this; there is always more work needed, but we can be grateful.

Fourthly, alongside my deep regret and concern about the failings of the church, I want to express gratitude for the good things that Archbishop Justin has done in this role.

As we have found in Chester Diocese, safeguarding is always a shared responsibility, and I am thankful for all who partner in this vital part of the life of the church.

Friends, please pray. Please care for each other. Please reach out for support if you need it. I will write further in due time.

With my ongoing prayers
+ Bless

Mark Tanner
